ZBT™ Technology

Strengthen, Regenerate, & Renew

Collagen is the most abundant protein found within the human body. It has a fiber-like structure and is used in the making of connective tissue that connects all major components within the body such as skin, bones, tendons, ligaments, cartilage, muscles, and more. Collagen provides structure, rigidity, and strength throughout 95% of the physical body, all while allowing for stretch and flexibility.

As we age, our bodies gradually make less collagen, changing the tightly organized network of fibers into a disorganized loose network, making supplementation essential for those 25 years of age and older.

Morikol® Tripeptide Marine Collagen

Morikol® Tripeptide marine Collagen was NutraIngredient's 2021 Award-Winning Ingredient of the Year: Beauty from Within. Morikol® is the most advanced, micro molecule, patented type 1 tripeptide marine collagen, providing a total-body approach to collagen supplementation.

Collagen size is measured in daltons, a measure of molecular mass. Most collagen sources have a molecular mass of 3,000-20,000 Dalton. The larger the molecule, the harder it is to digest and utilize. Morikol has a targeted approach, providing 15% concentrate of the smallest tripeptides coming in at 100-300 Dalton, making Collagen 300™ the smallest molecular collagen supplement known to man. This Micro Molecular™ Technology has 15 times better retention within the body, requires no digestion and is highly bioavailable. †

Features & Benefits

Skin, Hair, & Nails

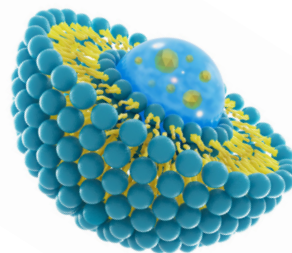

Collagen 300's Morikol® yields clinical studies that show improved skin elasticity by 6 times, improved hydration by 3 times, reduced skin roughness by 2 times and minimized visible wrinkles, fine lines, and crow's feet by 10 times. Morikol® tripeptides have also been shown to protect the skin from the photo-aging effects of UV-B light. †

Muscles, Joints, Bones, Tendons, & Ligaments

Collagen comprises about 60% of cartilage within joints. Collagen 300™ not only supports skin, hair and nails through collagen and elastin synthesis but supports joints, bones, muscles, tendons, ligaments, and cartilage. With proper collagen supplementation, it may improve joint mobility and decrease joint pain, especially for athletes and those with osteoarthritis. †

Additional Benefits

Lastly, enjoy the added benefits of supporting digestive health, cardiovascular health, healthier BMI, and elevated sports performance with Collagen 300™. †

LipoZome™

LipoZome™ is a custom blend of plant phospholipids that assist in the delivery, absorption and utilization of nutrients.
